BACKGROUND:

Mr. Williams has worked on a contract basis for numerous jurisdictions in Utah, Wyoming and North Dakota throughout his 10 year career in the industry. From 2009 through mid-2014 he acted as the contract building official for Holladay City, Utah as well as the resort town of Alta, Utah. Mr. Williams was instrumental in the complete start-up of two county building departments in western North Dakota including the adopting of codes, implementation of permitting processes as well as the development of policies and procedures in a part of the country where no previous form of building or construction regulatory processes existed. In addition to substantial municipal work Mr. Williams has acted and continues to act as Lead Inspector for a number of multi-million dollar projects for Utah's Division of Facilities and Construction Management (DFCM). Mr. Williams has extensive ICC certifications and was one of the first handful of ICC Master Code Professionals in Utah which he received in 2009.
